

DELUXEVIDEO

Commodore-Amiga

Quick Reference Card

Getting Started Before you start making your own videos with DeluxeVideo, you should follow the installation instructions in Section 1.4 of the Manual. Use the set of instructions appropriate to your system (one-drive vs. two-drive) and your level of expertise.

Once you have installed your disks, boot your system with the copy of the Maker Key disk and then double-click the DVideo disk icon followed by the DVideo program icon (the one that looks like a video camera). You will be asked to insert the Maker Key disk while DeluxeVideo checks the registration numbers, after which you will be able to put it away for the rest of the session.

Your DeluxeVideo package also includes Post Production Kit, a collection of special scene generators that you can use in your videos. For detailed information on using Post Production Kit with DeluxeVideo, see the accompanying documentation in the package.
